Foremost's Muck Dairying Project Being Expanded

"A Good Job, Just" Paul Reinhold, Chairman of the Board and President of Foremost Dairies says to Joe Harper, President, "Foremost" and enthusiastic dairymen in the muckbush. Reinhold, left, of the Miami Division and Mr. Harper, right, of the Broward Division are joining in the local project.

Most significant is the decision announced by Mr. Paul Reinhold, Chairman of the Board of Foremost Dairies this past week that the milk production in the Shawnee Drainage District (Hillabrouse Plantation) will be doubled to better than 1,000 gallons of milk daily, immediately, and that a total of 460 acres of the Shawnee forage mixture worked out by Dr. Roy Bair and Mr. Reinhold will be planted just as soon as current crops are harvested from the land.

An additional herd of 250 milkers from the Miami area are being added, to the Shawnee operation this week to be placed on the muck lands.

Miami's urban growth is forcing dairies from the high-priced subdivision land around Miami, and the Glades is reaping the benefit from demonstrated superior economical production of quality milk.

dairymen who cut his eye-teeth in Florida dairying possibilities when he acquired the Penny Farm Dairy just south of Jacksonville, and built it into a most successful production unit.

His activities in the distribution of dairy products now include numerous midwestern states and California as well as the entire south. His organization was the major agency to furnish dairy products to the (Continued on Page Five)

Contest Special Vote Offer Starting Saturday Opens Door Wide For New Entrants

By ROBERT W. McKey, Contest Manager

Just a few "full limit" subscriptions to Belle Glade Herald during "Booster Week," opening this Saturday morning and continuing through Saturday night, May 29th, might be the very ones needed to go "over the top" with flying colors. Readers should help their favorite contestant while subscriptions count most in votes and "Booster Week" offers that opportunity. For new entrants this time is "manna from heaven" so to speak. It is the one and only week where a late starter can readily place himself on equal footing with any of the top leaders, easily and quickly.

Swinging into line all-at-once with high hopes to win one of the many valuable prizes offered by the HERALD, he small but fairly representative list of contestants listed elsewhere on this page, are beginning to hint their stride in this fascinating race and henceforth the interest of all concerned will grow by leaps and bounds.

Candidate Johns Spends Several Hours In Glades Asking Folks For Votes

Attends Corn Rolling At Legion Hall And Makes A Speech

Charles Johns, candidate for Governor next month, spent three hours in Belle Glade Monday afternoon and visited the Brown's farm precinct in an effort to shake hands with the voters there.

Mr. Johns, reiterated the promise of his Road Board Chairman to build a four-lane highway from the coast to the Glades, and spoke of the need for a road to the Glades.

He promised to build the roads he and his Board are promising in southeast Florida. He promised to build the roads he and his Board are promising in southeast Florida.

Several references were made to "Leroy" (Leroy) television appearance with him and discussed his challenge to Leroy to return to the television with no holds barred.

Altogether the Governor avowed his friendship for the Glades and southeast Florida and his intention to give this area as much consideration when it comes to spending road money.

A crowd of more than a hundred folks, men and women, and children gathered at the Legion

Hall to shake hands with the candidate and to listen to his talk.

Mayor Lewis Friend of Palmetto, Mayor Fisher of South Bay and Mayor Harold Rubin of Belle Glade were among those who thanked the Governor for his expressed aim to build a four lane highway.

Monday's Total Of 1703 Tops Records Of Local Market

With one steer grading "good" at $38.25 and slaughterers generally taking about half of the offerings, the two sales at the local Cattle Market for the present week topped all previous records for a week's sale.

On the Monday sale 43% in numbers and 44% in dollars went to the slaughterers while the Wednesday sale brought 60% of the dollars from them with 51% of the numbers coming from the slaughterers.

Monday's Sale 1234 head $75,463.00 Slaughter Steers: Coml. 16.75-18.00; Uty. 13.00-16.50; Calf. 11.00-17.75; Cows 12.25-13.00; Heifers 12.00; Can. 7.25; Calves Good 16.00-20.00; Coml. 14.75-15.75; Uty. 12.14-14.00; Calf. 10.75-12.50; Cows: Uty. 12.25-12.75; (Continued on Page Four)

Blight And Prices Slow Spring Corn, Other Harvests

A blight that is deadly in a corn field unless checked and watched extensively and diligently has seriously affected the Glades Spring Corn Crop. The market has not encouraged the picking of any corn other than strictly fancy corn either.

There are many thousands of acres of spring corn which would boost the movement to an extent high if it were able to be picked and sold.

Other harvests are tapering off seriously, with quite a few acres of black-eyed peas being (Continued on Page Four)

First 192 Rooms Of 600 Condemned To Be Discussed By Owners And City Fathers At 8:00 P. M. Thursday Nite

The Florida Hotel Commission and the City of Belle Glade have for the past five six years conducted a campaign to secure compliance with existing laws with regard to rooming houses, particularly in the negro section of Belle Glade.

This campaign has been conducted on the basis of securing improved sanitary conditions as well as consideration for the safety of those renting the rooms.

Sufficient toilets, sufficient garbage cans and proper collection of garbage in the designated place, has been a continuing problem of both the owners and the City.

Leniency has been practiced for the years towards the sudden necessity for owners to make improvements needed to comply with the regulations. Age and use have been hard on a lot of buildings, and the State and City have brought the matter to a head by condemning

Five Of Nine Escapees "Sweating" It Out After Casual Walk For A Drink Of Water—Four To Come

"Boss, we just waked up to get some water and found the wire pushed up and the door open, so we just took a little walk." That or that generally is the story told by the five boys who have been recaptured after an escape from the Glades State Prison Farm here, Tuesday night.

Four of the boys who took a walk are still at large, but are expected back at the "old home" before many days. They are Leroy Baker, a former escapee from the Road Gang, Lawrence Johnson, also a former escapee, who is up for auto stealing and rape, Lonnie B. Patterson, an escapee up for unarmed robbery and William Stewart, who took a walk from here before being serving time for breaking and entering.

Stewart is assumed to be the leader and planner in this wholesale escape. The best information and deductions are that somehow the group secured a key to the door

Mrs. Roberts In Car Accident

Mrs. Winnie Roberts is reported resting comfortably at St. Mary's Hospital West Palm Beach, after an accident Wednesday in which she suffered a broken hip and abrasions of the face, hands and legs.

According to Carl Williams, patrolman the accident happened about 12:30 pm when a car driven by Louis Harry Holman of Miami Springs, who was traveling south, ran a red light and hit the Ford driven by Mrs. Roberts on the left back fender, the impact spinning the car around and throwing her into the street.

Mrs. Roberts was taken to the local hospital by Basil Todd and Junior Deen where she was treated by Dr. Ralph Pipes and removed to St. Mary's Hospital.

Neither Holman nor Mrs. Roberts were injured. He was charged with reckless driving, causing an accident and personal injury, running a red light, and was released on $100 bond. His hearing will be in municipal court on May 24.

About $250 in damages to each car was reported.

Chamber Appeals For Assistance To Expand Program

President George Wedgworth of the local Chamber of Commerce, in discussing the program of the organization said, "We have just completed a beautiful and useful office building which will credit to a city many times the size of Belle Glade, and WITHOUT BENEFIT OF OUTSIDE HELP, or a special bonding campaign. This has been done out of the regular operating expenses, which itself is at best little enough to carry the expanded program anticipated."

Too Late To Classify

By Russell Key
Being a farmer boy at heart I always get a thrill when somebody says to me to visit them on their farm.

Among my farm friends are young fellows who have been farming successfully here in Florida for a good many years, in fact they have the largest farm of its kind in the world.

They raise alligators. This remarkable farm, operated by W. L. Drysdale and Charlie Ufina, is known as the Alligator Alligator Farm and is located in the Ancient City on U. S. Highway A1A.

Every time I am given a place I'm reminded of the story of the drunk who went from table to table in a bar and tried to engage folks in conversation. He would sit down by a stranger and ask him if he knew that a mama alligator laid a hundred eggs a year and then the papa alligator would come along and eat all but one egg.

After he had asked the question over and over the stranger became exasperated. "All right," he said, "So the mama alligator lays 100 eggs and the papa alligator eats 99 of them, so what?"

"You mean you are not interested?" asked the drunk. "You mean you don't care whether the papa alligator eats the eggs or not?"

"No," the stranger snapped. "I'm not interested and I don't care whether the papa alligator eats the eggs or not."

Shaking his finger in the fellow's face, the drunk said, "Well, Mister, you better care. I'm telling you, you sure better care."

"Why should I care?" asked the man.

"Because," said the drunk. "If the papa alligator didn't come along and eat all those eggs, my friend you would be up to your neck in alligators."

That is exactly the situation my friends Drysdale and Ufina are in. They are literally up to their neck in alligators; they have thousands of them from day-old offspring to ancient relics.

I was recently honored by being enrolled as a member of the "Alligator Club and Saurian Club" which is a rather exclusive organization. My membership card informs me that I am a member in good standing and entitled to all the rights and privileges listed on the reverse side of the card. It reads as follows:

(1) To wrestle a live alligator at regular wrestling times provided said 'gator is in good physical condition and not a fit prospect for a lady's hand and further provided that member is of sufficient adult age to know the difference between President Monroe and Marilyn Monroe.

(2) To chute the chute into the breeding pool with the live alligators. Member must furnish own bathing suit and macarochrome. (Note: Breeding pool is not to be confused with the Ladies' Lounge).

(3) To feed by hand, any one of the 6,000 live alligators at the farm at regular feeding times. (Note: Fingers, hands or arms left with said 'gators will be retained by the management for their trophy room).

"WE WILL TAKE OVER ALL CAPITALIST AREAS NOT BY INVASION" SAY COMMIES

"Members of the Communist Division of the French Assembly, sitting across the table from me said, 'We will take over all countries of the capitalist system after they have destroyed themselves, and not by invasion.' Mr. Gene Rayborn reported to the Lions Wednesday in a talk describing some of his experiences as a member of the Flying Classroom sent to Europe to study the effects of the Marshall Plan on business, labor and education.

"Shocked for the moment," he continued, "I replied to them: 'I do not believe half you statements, but as an American I will defend your right to say this. This seemed to floor them, for an communist they could not say the same thing to me.'"

Evidences in both our state and national political fields indicate that the Communist are making good to a degree on this boast."

Rayborn ended his talk with the idea of Lincoln in his immortal Gettysburg address,

"that this Nation having faith in its people and God shall not perish from the earth."

The visitor told of his witnessing a show of Dotty Lamour from the private box of the Queen of England, due to a series of circumstances made up of Dorothy's husband who spied him in the lobby as an American.

TWO MORE POLIO

Three Weitzman children, Elsa, 9, Jeanette, 11, and George, 5, Belle Glade were taken to St. Mary's early this week. The nine year old girl has been released and the older girl is still under observation, the boy is in an iron lung and is reported in critical condition. Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Baker are the parents. The children affected have not taken the Salk vaccine according to Miss Banna Rodriguez, county health nurse. She stated that the following symptoms should receive prompt medical attention as the case may or may not be polio: sore throat, stiff neck, sore muscles, difficulty in swallowing, speech, stomach, feverishness or head-aches.

An urgent reminder to all parents is to see that children have plenty of rest and kept from over-exertion, and mingling with strange groups of children. If you suspect your child has polio do not get panicky, put the child to bed, call the doctor and follow his advice.

To-date there have been 24 cases of polio in Palm Beach County with two other local cases reported in April.

Great Gains are Ahead For Florida and You— Don't Let Machine Politics Block the Road

VOTE
MAY 25th

Citizens of Florida stand on the threshold of great opportunity in this rapidly growing State. Whether we shall go forward to enjoy the gains in more depends largely on the honesty, efficiency and sound policies of the leader we vote into the Governor's chair.

FLORIDA MUST GO FORWARD

We can not allow political gray-train riders to continue plundering and sapping our economy if we are to stay abreast of needs and keep moving forward.

We can not be deluged by the fear spreading of desperate politicians who, seeing their machine swamped by more than 400,000 Odom-Collins votes in the first primary, are fabricating rumors, deceitful inferences and even bald lies to save their gray-train.

LET'S GET THINGS DONE

We must consider our pressing needs for more schools, good highways, and better State institutions to serve Florida's fast-growing population. Will these things be built by using millions of dollars to pay-off and enrich political pigs? Or will they be more sure of early completion with the taxpayer's money invested honestly and wisely to the maximum benefit of the whole State?

YOU HAVE THE ANSWER

The answers to those questions are obvious, but do you know that you and other thinking, independent citizens like you hold the answers in their votes? But no matter what you think if you don't vote, your thoughts don't count. Make your thinking count at the polls and urge your friends to go and vote to carry Florida forward with Collins.

MRS. GILCHRIST GIVES INSPIRING TALK AT WMU

Before a hushed audience of nearly one hundred people, Mrs. A. R. Gilchrist, spoke for two hours on Missions in Brazil.

The told of the transportation difficulties, of her work as a photographer and liaison worker. She also told the story of Dr. and Mrs. Clem Hardy, Southern Baptist Missionaries in Manaus on the Amazon, and how they collected orphans and built homes for them and how they managed this orphanage. Mrs. Gilchrist told of her work while she was in charge of the Mission for a time when Dr. Hardy was sick in America and Mrs. Hardy had to be away at another Mission Field.

Telling how the children were taught to work she displayed some beautiful pieces of handicraft made by the girls, although hide work done by the boys and even work by younger children.

Every person there was introduced by her presentation of missions.

Following the program the group viewed pictures of the mission, handwork and curios that she had collected. It was truly inspirational and educational.

Mrs. Elmer Osking, chairman of the Gladys Smith Circle served refreshments. Mrs. Francis Harris served at the punch bowl, and Mrs. Junius Harris, Mrs. Marvita Unwin, Mrs. William Thibault, Mrs. B. Q. Waddell, and Mrs. Roy Litch assisted in making the social hour enjoyable.

"Wee Is Me" Says Pump Contractor

The Ivy H. Smith Co. of Jacksonville was awarded a contract to build the pumping station at the west end of the South West River Canal where it intersects the east levee of the Southern most Conservation Area.

The hole in which the pump foundation is being put must go to elevation 11, below sea level, and the work must be kept out while the foundation is being poured.

Now, the contractor who built US 91 around those parts of Mrs. M. C. Collins' farm, the thirty (30) acre, and people who have tried to grow grass around there for cattle have found that it is not impossible to keep the seepage down.

The contractor in this case is proving both facts again. He's driving 800 2-inch well points in concentric circles around the hole trying to keep the seepage out of the hole. He has these points hooked in groups to ten and twelve-inch pumps trying to keep ahead of the seepage.

Col. Schulz, District Engineer has put the contractor on a 24-hour six-day-a-week basis, trying to get him on schedule.

FOR ATHLETES FOOT USE A KERATOLYTIC CAUSE—

It is a common complaint of athletes to have blisters and corns on their feet. The cause is the friction of the shoe on the foot. The use of a keratolytic will remove the dead skin and prevent the formation of blisters and corns.

Just as I am

Just as I am, without one plea,
But that Thy blood has shed for me,

63% Think Eisenhower Administration Doing A Good Job Of Red-Cleaning In Federal Government

By Kenneth Flank, Director, Princeton Research Service

How do rank and file voters across the nation feel about the Red-Cleaning job of the Eisenhower Administration? A public opinion survey just completed throws light on how American citizens feel on the matter.

Survey results show that more than 3 out of every 5 (63%) of all those questioned are of the opinion that the Eisenhower Administration is doing a good job of getting rid of Communists in the Federal Government.

Only about 1 in 7 (14%) says the GOP Administration is doing a poor job.

In other words, U. S. voters who say that the present Administration is doing a good job of getting rid of Communists in the Federal Government outnumber by a margin of better than 4 to 1 those who say it's doing a poor job.

The above facts were brought to light when the matter of Red-Cleaning in the Federal Government was recently placed before the American adult public.

When U. S. Poll staff reporters asked a representative cross-section of the nation's voters:

"Do you think the Eisenhower Administration is doing a good job or a poor job of getting rid of Communists in the Federal Government?"

These were the nationwide results:

Red-Cleaning in the Federal Government?
Good job	63%
Poor job	14%
No opinion	4%

Highlight of today's survey findings is that among rank and file Democratic Party members, those who say good job outnumber those who say poor job by a margin of 5 to 1.

Among GOP voters, those saying good outnumber those saying poor by a margin of exactly 2 to 1.

The vote by political party affiliation:

Job Of Red-Cleaning in Federal Government?	Dem.	Rep.	Indep.
Good job	50%	80%	64%
Fair job	22	14	20
Poor job	22	4	12
No opinion	6	2	4

Worthy of mention, too, is that in every other population group examined, the majority opinion is that the Eisenhower Administration is doing a good job of getting rid of Communists in the Federal Government.

These groups include men and women, as well as all age groups, educational levels, city state, occupations, and sections of the country.

Florida's State Parks

By John D. Pennkamp
Chairman, Florida Board of Parks and Historic Memorials

States began going into the Park Business in 1870, when California opened one in Yosemite Valley.

By 1920 they were common to most of the states and by 1932, most Arizona and Nevada were without state parks.

These are some of the observations of Dr. J. E. Dovel, associate professor of political and social sciences of the University of Florida, in a leaflet he has issued on "The Florida State Parks".

When state systems were first being established the advocates said:

"Here is an area so outstanding that it ought to be saved for the public."

Now, says Dr. Dovel, the philosophy is:

"Here is a public, vast in numbers, with modern means of transportation, good roads and leisure, more and more cramped by the growth of cities, to whom contact with the beauty of nature and opportunity for the simple types of outdoor recreation are more and more necessary for a healthy mind and a healthy body."

"Let us find and preserve some of what is left of our unspoiled out-of-doors, so that our people today and tomorrow may have a chance to know what it is like to enjoy it."

The Early Emphasis on conservation, says Dr. Dovel, obscured the economic value of the parks resulting from man's increasing leisure.

Fewer working hours weekly, longer vacations, earlier retirement — all these have contributed to the search for places to pass time in production or recreation.

"Visitors to Florida," he asserts, "are recreation minded, and if the park properties were fully developed and exploited, they would make an appeal to the recreation-bound citizens from all over the nation far beyond the present enticement."

He notes that the state's 24 parks, embracing 71,000 acres and valued at $23,000,000 only 15 are in operation with about half of them developed.

"By the further development and exploitation of state park properties," he continues, "visitors (and residents) would be encouraged to spend more of their time and money in the enjoyment of recreation and contribute to the support and expansion of the system."

"The development of 'tourism' on a year-round basis has become Florida's number one business — a business which is said to result in an annual expenditure of approximately a billion dollars in the state."

"The State Chamber of Commerce reports that in 1950 a million and a quarter automobiles entered Florida from out of the state and more than a million cars remained overnight."

"With An Average of two to three passengers per car, almost 750,000 cars were driven across the state line for recreational purposes."

"Tourism is a many-sided aggregate involving hospitality, the relation between host and guest, and entertainment."

"From the business side tourism embraces a series of operations which include rental of rooms in hotels and motels, spending in restaurants and drinking places, spending at race tracks and on amusements, and expenditures for motor fuel, foods, dry goods, gifts and furnishings for all establishments that cater to tourists."

In Urging a more liberal approach to state park improvements, Dr. Dovel points out that the importance of tourism to the state is recognized in both public and private expenditures.

The state appropriates $1,000,000 annually for advertising; the counties in 1948-50 appropriated $400,000; and Florida cities one million dollars. These sums were, essentially, matched by private business.

CONTEST SPECIAL
prize of $750 cash will be given which in itself, is an award of unusual value for just a little spare time effort during the next few weeks.

Then, too, under a unique and very equitable arrangement, special cash bonus awards will be given to third, fourth, fifth and sixth place winners—making in all six big prizes offered.

Nor is that all; to assure ample and immediate compensation to all active participants in the race, a special fund has been set aside for the purpose of paying 20 percent cash commission ($1 out of every $5 of individual subscription collections) each week in accordance with the plan more fully outlined in opening announcement of contest.

Anybody's Race
As yet no one has a "walk-away" for the grand capital prize, nor for the other major awards at this early stage of the game. That, of course, is understandable. The contest has just started. This week, however, will see the contest beyond formative stages. After this Saturday, the race will settle down to the best of the contestants entered. Until then it is all equal and everyone can win. Anyone with the WILL to win really has a chance of a lifetime. If you can use a car or $750, in good spendable cash means anything in your scheme of things, one of them can be yours if you have a little "git up and git."

Here's How to Win
The week starting this Saturday morning and ending May 29th, has been designed as "Booster Week"—during which time the contest department of this newspaper will issue 12,500 EXTRA votes in addition to the REGULAR 25,000 votes on each and every 4-year subscription (or extension of previous contest subscriptions) payment to the full 4-year limit, which affords late beginners, and early starters as well, a never-to-be-repeated opportunity to really get into high gear, spurt ahead in the race and win the prize of his or her desire. This ONE and ONLY extra vote offer of entire contest may play an important part in deciding the immediate leadership for the Chevrolet "Bel-Air" and also determining the winners of major awards late in the season.

Just five weeks from this Saturday noon. In fact, anyone by putting forth a little special effort during "BOOSTER WEEK" can make themselves important factors and probable winners of the biggest, best and most desirable prizes.
